President's Report

By the time you receive this Con-Rod January is behind us.

The Vauxhall National Rally was held from January 7th in the Clare Valley. They came from all states of Australia as well as New Zealand, but experienced extremely hot weather during their stay. The feedback from participants was very positive and they appreciated the attendance of our members at the bar-be-que on their first night of their Rally.

Our January meeting was extremely well attended, with 60 people present. David Chantrell certainly knew his subject and kept everybody interested in the history of Duncan and Fraser.

For information on the Shed Day being held on the 14th February, please refer to the Con-Rod Calendar.

March is going to be a very busy month with the Power of the Past on the 6th and 7th, the NARC Swap Meet on the 21st, and the Geralka Clearing Sale from the 24th to the 26th. Information and roster for the Swap Meet is on page 9. The roster for Geralka will be distributed directly to those who are on it.

Past Events

We have had several events since the last ConRod. First, there was the Xmas street party at Riverton. I did not attend myself but I am informed there were several of our members present with their historic vehicles. Then there was the Xmas Dinner at the North Kapunda Hotel. This was very well attended with 24 members and partners and a good time was had by all.

Next I accompanied Ross Vogt in the MG (had to wear the MG cap) to join the parent club in welcoming the Vauxhall club to the Clare Valley, where they were holding their national rally. Disappointing to see only 2 chapter members and 5 Parent club members turn up. Peter Eaton turned up in one of his Whippets and gave a presentation of his adventures on the "Whippets for Wishes" rallies.

The following week, the parent club meeting was held at Graham Goode's workshop and afterwards a very interesting presentation was given of the history of Duncan and Fraser, coach builders and bodybuilders of Adelaide. 10 chapter members turned up for this one. These included Ross Vogt, Brian Woodcock, Brian O'Loughlin, Brian Haines, Ray Edwards, Jean Burns, Terry Wade, Darril Phitzner, Tony Leis and myself.

The presenter, David Chantrell, knew his subject well, having researched the company and written a book about it. These books were available on the night, and I bought a copy. There were many photos within and these were interesting in their own right as was a snapshot of early Adelaide showing off the Duncan and Fraser product. All in all, a very interesting night.

On the morning of Australia day, many chapter members left Hill Street and travelled to the oval at Greenock where we met up with members of the Barossa and Gawler clubs. Over fifty vehicles then traveled to the hall at Ebenezer where we enjoyed an Australia day breakfast of eggs and bacon with sausages and tomato and followed that with pancake, syrup and cream. (Well, I did anyway. Some people enjoyed a fruit selection.)

We later mustered again at Hill Street where we were joined by the people who did not attend the breakfast and we proceeded to Balaklava, where we joined members of the Maitland club for a lunch at one of Balaklava's hotels. There were 17 people from the chapter and 42 from MAPS.

After a very enjoyable lunch, we then moved to an abode in Balaklava where the owner allowed us to look in his sheds. This gentleman was part way through restoring an XK140 Jaguar. The body was off the chassis and on a body jig and he was part way through replacing the rusty bits of metal with good stuff. I envy the man his tin working skills.

After a good look through his sheds, where there were several restored Jaguars, we enjoyed an afternoon tea he and his wife provided. We then headed for home. Another very enjoyable day.

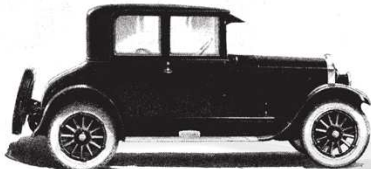

A Correction

In the photograph of the founding members of the Kapunda Chapter in the last ConRod, two members names were given as Rowett. These should have been Reichelt. My apologies to those concerned.

Duncan and Fraser Presentation January 14th 2010 meeting

... David Chantrell gave a very interesting talk on Duncan and Fraser who were the Ford T distributors and body builders in Adelaide. His knowledge of early Fords is outstanding. He was particularly interested in the Ford body used as the projection stand. Until he saw this body he thought only two had survived. He was very quickly able to help Graham Goode with advice on how to overcome body fit problems. David has written a very informative book on Duncan and Fraser and it is full of photographs. Many copies sold on the night. If any one else would like a copy Graham can supply contact details. The presentation he gave was a précis of this book.

Details were given of Duncan and Frasers early history beginning as coach builders. They then went on to sell velocipedes and then bicycles. They started building trams and car bodies and became the Ford Distributors for SA and also supplied NT and parts of NSW. Many of Adelaide's horse drawn trams and then electric trams were made by them. Even more trams were supplied to Bendigo and Ballarat and other places interstate. David also commented on how SA ordered trams from America instead of from Duncan and Fraser and then Duncan and Fraser had to assemble paint and modify them to make them work as well as their own product did. Although cheaper to begin with the final product was dearer than the local As David said things haven't changed!!! The trams were manufactured on the site which later became the Holden Woodville plant.

Duncan and Fraser supplied a deluxe body of their own manufacture to go on the T chassis at an extra 180 pounds when the basic car cost 250. They could barely keep up with demand. They then built a factory at Mile End which was part of the Perry Engineering site until it was recently demolished for a retail complex.

They were eventually put out of business when Ford started to manufacture for themselves in Victoria and then stopped supplying T's or any car for a year while they retooled for production of the A. At one stage Ford sold 60% of all new cars in SA. To then supply none must have hurt a lot of businesses and as Duncan and Fraser had invested so much in factories etc they could not continue with no product to sell.

All the while that they were in business they occupied premises in Franklin St Adelaide just west of the GPO.

Below is an email from David in response to thanks from Ian Denton.

Dear Ian,

I am humbled by your kind words. All I did was bring along a laptop, a projector, myself and a bucket load of enthusiasm. It was the venue, the members and the positive attitude of a great audience that made the night special.

I have given this presentation about 10 times now, the NARC meeting last night was by far the best one.

It was exceptionally attended, fantastic audience participation coupled with some great cars brought along to add to the environment. I was honoured that I could accept the invitation from NARC and that the members allowed me to encroach on their general meeting. I thoroughly enjoyed the night.

Please pass along my appreciation to both the NARC members and Graham for allowing us to turn his workshop upside down.

PS – Before the presentation I went to the toilet down in a park opposite the bowling-green and saw the biggest Huntsman spider I have EVER seen! Boy you breed them big in Clare! No wonder your Fords sound so nice and run so smooth if you have a couple of these under the bonnet as engineers...

*Kind regards,
David Chantrell*

Old Cars and Push Bikes

By Carolyn Kittle

Club member, Peter Eaton participated in the Clare Street Party held on Monday 18th January showcasing his Whippet and Overland cars, in the carnival like atmosphere of the Clare Valley Break Away Festival - in honour of the Santos Tour Down Under Cycling Event.

The picturesque winery town was themed with 'recycled' bicycles painted yellow, on balconies, haystacks, verandahs and roofs, and 'also some older models' on top of the rustic Whippet and Overland making a striking display.

The cycling event officially started in Clare for the first time, on Tuesday 19th January 2009, kicking off the annual UCI ProTour season. Competing cyclists were sent on their way with the crack of the starting gun by Mayor Allan Aughey.

The rustic Vintage Cars, proved to be hugely popular with the large crowd which had gathered prior to the street party, when they toured up and down the main street merrily tooting their horns. The street party was held on the Monday night.

Peter's company, 'expanda stand' – “The World's Most Advanced Brochure Display System” was the major sponsor, (platinum), of the Clare Valley Break Away Festival. The Festival proved to be an outstanding success, aided by the pleasant, fine and temperate weather.

Charlie Walsh - legendary Australian cyclist of over one thousand winning races was also in attendance. He met and mingled with locals and tourists after giving a short speech on the main stage and happily posed for photographs.

Carolyn Kittle with cycling legend Charlie Walsh

Mayor, Allan Aughey was extremely pleased to extend the hours of the street party as it was so well patronised - another plus for our SA Clare Valley - a beautiful part of Australia.
